THE KERRY CHRISTMAS CAROL

A traditional song from County Kerry, often sung at Christmastime. It speaks of an old Irish custom where households would leave a candle burning in the window and their doors unlocked on Christmas Eve to welcome the Holy Family (Mary, Joseph, and the infant Jesus), who were believed to still be wandering the roads, seeking shelter. The poem describes the preparation of the home with a lit fire and food left out, reflecting a tradition of hospitality and faith.
